EXPERIENCE & EDUCATION

Breakout Studio

Branding, digital marketing and web development studio

FRONT-END WEB DEVELOPER
AUGUST 2019 - MARCH 2020

After I completed my internship Breakout asked me to stay on as a part-time employee. I completed a significant amount of work during this time period for many different clients. This work would otherwise have had to been outsourced to contract developers in Poland. The amount of responsibility given to me grew as time went on and by the end of the year I was trusted with sole responsibility over sizeable projects for important clients with time expectations.

Sample Client Work

- Jump Capital
  When Breakout handed over the Jump Capital website project to me, its development had been all but abandoned for months due to a series of unexpected design revisions and other issues. I was tasked with revising the previously completed work and finishing the rest of the site. I created a new home page and built a functional customized blog post system into the CMS.

- AIM Clinics
  AIM autism clinics is one of Breakout's most important clients because in addition to being responsible for AIM's branding and web development, Breakout is also the primary investor in the company. Thus, when I was given the responsibility for developing a large site expansion and update during my winter break, I pushed myself to achieve new heights of quality and craftsmanship in my work. I was charged with the Programs section, the Careers page and the Resources directory. This included creating functionality and usability for a complex UI element that needed to filter through assets based on selected options among each of the multiple different categories of filter.

WEB DEVELOPMENT INTERN
JUNE 2019 - AUGUST 2019

The summer before my senior year I was hired as a paid summer intern at Breakout Studio. It was a exceptional opportunity that provided me with professional experience not only in web development but also in working in design and marketing environments.

Project

- The development project I was given as an intern was the task of building a new website for Breakout Studio itself. The design for this internal project had been sitting untouched for over six months as it was continuously neglected in favor of client work. This made it an excellent project for me to cut my teeth in the world of professional web development.
